DWARFED FRUIT TREES

The Flory Peach

Only a few years ago the thought of planting an orchard of apples, pears, plums, cherries, peaches, nectarines, quince, apricot, orange, lemon, grapefruit, limes, and including several varieties of each, on an average city lot seemed impossible. But now with the development of the modern dwarfing stocks, over sixty trees can be planted where only 4 standard apple trees could grow.

This means that on your lot, you can have several varieties of each fruit, plus room for grapes, berries, vegetables and flower garden.

The modern dwarfed tree produces full size fruit in an amazing number of varieties. They produce fruit years ahead of standard trees with much less work. Almost all of the spraying, pruning, thinning and harvesting can be done from the ground. Quality of the fruit is generally better on dwarf trees because these essential operations can be done more thoroughly and easily.

To sum it up:

Dwarfed trees take less space. By planting more trees you can extend your season as much as two months in some cases by getting early, mid-season and late varieties.

Dwarfed trees are easier to spray, prune and harvest. A tree that grows from 5 to 10 feet is much easier to care for than one that grows 20 to 30 feet.

Dwarfed trees bear sooner. A standard apple tree takes 4 to 5 years to produce fruit while a dwarfed tree sometimes has fruit the same year planted.

Fruit produced on dwarfed trees is generally better quality, earlier ripening and better color than on standard trees.

THE FLORY DWARF PEACH

This strikingly new Natural dwarfed tree is literally covered with the largest and most beautiful peach blossoms you have ever seen. They cover each branch so tightly and completely around each twig that it resembles a huge red lilac.

Now the Flory isn't satisfied with just being small and beautiful, it insists on producing 200 to 300 medium sized, white fleshed fruit with plenty of rich, sweet juice just ready to run down your chin as soon as you take a bite. They are good canned, too!

The leaves are long, narrow, and very attractive. They clothe the tree from the end of March until late November.

And best of all, it never grows over 5 feet high.

Not only is the Flory peach amazing in itself but it has quite a history, too:

In the summer of 1939, an American Army officer on a mission for the Chinese Nationalist Army, was in Northern China. While staying with a Chinese family he noticed a small peach tree loaded with fruit. He ate a few peaches, and because of their unique flavor and the small size of the tree, he put three of the pits in the pocket of his leather coat.

Shortly after that he was wounded by the Japanese and was sent home to the United States. He was then transferred to a hospital in Modesto, California, where he recovered. Before he left Modesto for his home in the East he found his three peach pits and planted them at the home of a friend, Mr. C. R. Flory.

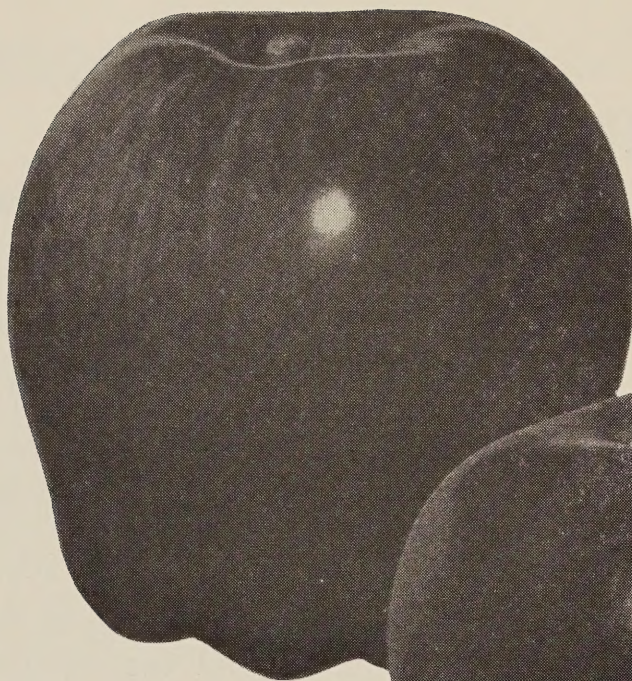

One tree was the result of this planting, and all the trees we have today are the direct descendants of that tree. Mr. Flory immediately saw the horticultural importance and value of this tree which now bears his name. He has selected and propagated the best strains until just now we are ready to put this new tree on the market.

WASHINGTON NAVEL

DWARFED VALENCIA ORANGE

The best summer orange. Ripens from May to December. Sweet, very juicy and few seeds. Will stand to 21°F.

DWARFED RANGPUR LIME

The deep reddish orange fruits look like a tangerine. Even the flesh is orange. It is the hardiest lime and has the largest and most fragrant blossoms. Ripens from November to July. Will stand to 18°F.

Nearly everyone that's eaten an orange or lemon has wanted to live where he can pick them from his own tree. Even those who live in cold sections of the country can now pick their own citrus fruit. Dwarf oranges, lemons, limes and other citrus fruit make wonderful tubbed specimens to move into the house in the winter. There's nothing like those large clusters of fragrant flowers followed by the deep orange or golden yellow fruit. You can pick ripe citrus fruits every day of the year.

DWARFED WASHINGTON NAVEL ORANGE

This is the famous California winter ripening orange. The fruit is large, seedless, with the characteristic navel at the blossom end. The skin peels off easily, while the sections are easily separated without breaking. Ripens December to May. Will stand to 21°F.

EUREKA LEMON

DWARFED RED GRAPEFRUIT

This is a new seedless, red fleshed grapefruit. In hot climates the red color shows both inside and out. In coastal sections, it shows less color. Highest quality. Ripens March to August. Will stand to 21°F.

---

* Due to quarantine restrictions we will not ship citrus trees to Arizona and Florida nor to Butte, Glenn, San Diego and Ventura Counties in California.

LEMONS

DWARFED EUREKA LEMON

The fruit is uniformly medium sized, of highest quality. Very few seeds and lots of juice. Ripens fruit all year, but ripens the largest crop in the summer when most of the lemons are used. The best home lemon. Will stand to 22°F.

DWARFED GOLDEN BEAUTY LEMON

This is an improved strain of the famous Meyer lemon. The fruit is oval and deep orange yellow in color, larger and juicier than the average lemon. Very large pink, fragrant blossoms. Will stand to 15°F.

DWARFED CALAMONDON

This wonderful but little known citrus bears large quantities of small highly colored fruit, reddish-orange inside and out. Excellent unique flavor with more juice than any other citrus. Excellent for beverages and marmalade. Very large, fragrant, snow white flowers. Will stand to 15°F.

CONCORD

CONCORD

Everybody is familiar with this one. The delicious blue-black grapes are born abundantly in the medium sized bunches. No grape is better for juice and jelly. Good arbor grape. Ripens in August. 50c each

BLACK MONUKKA

A medium sized black seedless grape resembling Thompson Seedless, except in color and they are  $\frac{1}{3}$  larger. Sweet, crisp, and born in large loose clusters. Ripens late August to early September. Bush or trellis. 50c each

GRAPESAre Sweet and CrispWhen You Pick 'em*FRESH

Grapes are one fruit that no home orchard should be without. They can be planted on a fence, trellis, arbor or pruned into bush form with only a stake for support. You'll really be amazed at the amount of fruit produced from a few vines.

Jumbo 2 year old vines 50s each (except as marked). One of each of the 10 varieties $4.50. ($5.50 value). Orders of 5 or more vines shipped prepaid, or any amount with a dwarf fruit tree order.

BLACK MUSCAT

These large sweet black grapes have the richest flavor of any grape we grow. Flavor is similar to the Muscat of Alexandria. Ripens August and September. Bush type. 50c each

CARDINAL

A new early grape ripening three weeks ahead of Thompson Seedless. The large dark fruit is born in large clusters. An excellent grape with a slight muscat flavor. Ripens late July. 75c each
